

ELEVEN BOWLING ALLEYS—ALL NEW

Pinspillers May Revel in Latest Establishment, Which Opens Saturday.

Richmond's bowling fraternity will be glad to learn that eleven new alleys have been built and will be ready for use to receive the pinspillers Saturday. The alleys are located at the northeast corner of Eighth and Broad Streets. It is stated that these new alleys are of the most up-to-date construction and are built of the same material as that used in the construction of the alleys at the National Bowling Tournament at Buffalo last year.

The bowling parlors will reserve special alleys for women and tournaments, among the fair sex will be one of the weekly features. H. W. McFarland, well known locally and a former league leader, both in the bowling and baseball world, will be in charge of the alleys, and his resourcefulness should make things interesting. Richmond has needed for a long time just such an establishment. The fact that there are more bowlers in the city than there are alleys to accommodate them, has been known for some time. The opening of this establishment will fill a long-felt want, beginning next week a two-man tournament will be inaugurated, and the best bowlers in the city have signified their intention of taking part.

CHIMBORAZO TENNIS CLUB TO HOLD SPECIAL MEETING

Owing to the proximity of the Christmas holidays, the Chimborazo Tennis Club will hold its meeting to-night instead of next Saturday night. The meeting will be held at the home of Miss Louise Garner, 3185 East Broad Street, at 8:15 o'clock.

The club will complete its plans for its annual Christmas banquet. All members of obtaining tickets to this banquet will receive them at to-night's meeting. Friends of the members are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

ELEVEN TEAMS STILL IN ACTION

Attendance During Week at Six-Day Race Will Be Record-Breaker.

New York, December 15.—There were just as many spectators in Madison Square Garden to-night as on any other night this week, and from an attendance viewpoint this year's six-day bicycle race will be a record-breaker. Eleven teams were still in action. Thomas and Steln were officially declared out of the contest after 5 o'clock, as Stein's physical condition was such that the management would not let him continue. Sprinks were frequent, but not very fruitful affairs. The best one was started by Fred Hill, but Drobach caught him after a chase which kept up several minutes. It was a costly effort for Lapize-Van Vonnwaert and Georget-Bruce teams, as each lost a lap.

Sprinks of the German team, sustained a fractured rib and painful lacerations on the left side in a bad fall yesterday, but this fact was not discovered until to-day. His partner, Lorenze, gave him all the rest he could, but Saldow insisted on doing a fair share of the work.

New Orleans Gets Pennant

Chapel Hill, N. C., Dec. 15.—For the directors' meeting of the Southern League board magnates held here this afternoon, New Orleans was formally awarded the pennant of 1911. The charges of making out side contracts made by certain players against the Mobile club also were stricken out and the club exonerated.

AMATEURS MET TO DISCUSS RULES

A meeting of the Capital City Baseball League was held last night at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. The report of the rules committee was received, and the entire session taken up in making such changes in the playing rules as were deemed advisable by several of the managers present. Another meeting will be held Tuesday night, at which the amended rules will be presented for acceptance.

OLD QUAKER WHISKEY

HONEST AS ITS NAME

THE Quaker's bond is his word, the world over. Old Quaker Whiskey represents the same high standard of commercial honor. This means we are faithful in the things unseen.

The result is a whiskey of surpassing smoothness, fastidious delicacy and unapproachable purity with a flavor that lingers—lingers. Experience a new delight. Try today.

Honest Old Quaker

R. L. Christian, & Co., Distributors Richmond, Va.

Ford Motor Cars

"You see them wherever you go; they go wherever you see them."

"Ask any world tourist."

MAY NOT ATTEMPT TO STOP RACING

No Interference in South Carolina Probable Unless There Is Further Legislation.

Columbia, S. C., December 15.—Weather conditions were adverse to good racing to-day, and a poor card was run off before a small crowd. Two favorites won, Tiny Tim, 15 to 1, the longest priced horse to win at the meeting so far, took the opening event. It was learned authoritatively to-day that Attorney-General Lyon would ask the Supreme Court on December 18 to dismiss the injunction proceedings which have been instituted against track officials, instructing them to show cause January 1 why they should not be prohibited from operating the plant. Such action on the part of the Attorney-General would result in the continuance of racing here, it is said, and the opening of the Charleston meet without official interference unless further legislation is instituted. Summaries:

First race—$200, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs, selling—Tiny Tim (15 to 1), 6 to 1 and 2 to 1 first, Dance Away (5 to 1), 5 to 1 and 1 to 1 second, May Nora (4 to 1), 5 to 1 and 1 to 1 third. Time, 1:18 1/5.

Second race—$200, two-year-olds and up, five furlongs, selling—Irishtown (3 to 1) and 1st, Lucky Wish (11 to 5), 5 to 1 and 1 to 1 second, Deduction (5 to 1), 2 to 1 and 1 to 1 third. Time, 1:12 1/5.

Third race—$350, three-year-olds and up, steeplechase, short course, about one mile and three-quarters—Emmiskillen (6 to 5), 15 to 20, out first, Sam Bull (13 to 5), 4 to 5, out second, Dr. Heard (2 to 1), out third. Time, 4:19 1/5.

Fourth race—$200, three-year-olds and up, mile and a sixteenth, selling—Marcomina (2 to 1), 2 to 5, out first, Michael Angelo (3 to 1), 2 to 5, out second, Profile (30 to 1), 5 to 1, 6 to 5 third. Time, 1:42 3/5.

Fifth race—$200, three-year-olds and up, mile, selling—Dunc, Campbell (8 to 1), 3 to 5, 2 to 5 first, Warner Griswell (3 to 1), 1 to 3, 5 to 10 second, Tipsey (3 to 1), 5 to 10 and 3 to 10 third. Time, 1:47.

Sixth race—$200, three-year-olds and up, mile, selling—Montagnic (4 to 1), 5 to 10, 3 to 5 first, Halldeman (2 to 1), even, 1 to 2 second, V. Powers (3 to 1), 5 to 10 and 3 to 10 third. Time, 1:47 1/5.

Indoor Baseball.

The Stephen Putney indoor baseball team last night defeated the O. H. Berry squad in the championship series now being played at the Stephen Putney gymnasium. The game was witnessed by a number of rooters, all of whom were more than pleased with the sport offered.

CAROLINA LEAGUE TO REMAIN INTACT

Charlotte, N. C., December 15.—At a meeting of the directors of the Carolina League Association here to-day, Greenville, S. C., came forward through her representatives and deposited the guarantee check of $1,000. At the regular meeting of the directors to-day, the league was generally understood that it would withdraw from the league. The directors officially declaring that the association would remain intact for the season of 1912. A meeting will be held here next month to formulate a schedule.

LYNCHBURG COUNCIL WILL CONCUR IN AMENDMENT

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., December 15.—The Common Council will hold so-called morning in the municipal committee room in the Kriss building for the purpose of considering the proposed amendment to the city charter, which the Board of Aldermen, since it was adopted by the Council.

The amendment consists of the reduction of $100,000, being the issue at $50,000, the board having cut out the provision for the bridge over the James River.

The Council at its November meeting adopted the ordinance with the bridge provision in it, and there is no doubt that it will come in the law as amended.

With this the ordinance goes to Mayor Smith for his approval, which it will get without delay.

Audubon Society Meeting.

The executive committee of the Audubon Society will hold a meeting at noon to-day at the East Grace Street to act on a number of important questions. All members are requested to attend.

Wants Sportsmen to Affiliate With Game Association

The following communication from M. D. Hart, of Ashland, explains the aims of the recently organized American Game Protective and Propagation Association:

Sporting Editor, The Times-Dispatch: Sir.—In the past twenty-five years many attempts have been made to form a national game protective association, yet they have failed for one reason or another. On September 25, 1911, there was incorporated under the laws of New York State the American Game Protective and Propagation Association, national in its scope and designed to do a great work.

The object of putting the movement into concrete form before the arms and ammunition men of the country, they having subscribed $25,000. That their interests are identical with those of sportsmen is obvious. In reading over a booklet sent out by this association, I was impressed with its essentials; yet nothing is of more importance to the average man than the fact that if we keep going as we are now drifting, before long the map of moderate means will not be able to hunt at all.

This association says: "This country stands today at the parting of the ways in the matter of field sports. It faces to-day the question whether free shooting shall continue or whether the European system of preserves and posted lands is to become the rule. It is of the greatest importance to the future of our country."

"While the association comprises in its membership owners of game preserves and members of shooting organizations, it is not a hunting club, and while it believes that its property rights should be decently and effectively protected, it does not believe in the principle that only men of wealth should have the privilege of taking the gun."

"It believes that the average man and the poor citizen should have an opportunity. These men must get their shooting close at hand or not at all. Without the benefit of game laws their opportunity for recreation of this character would long ago have disappeared. Their only hope for the future lies in the same direction—in effective, well administered game propagation along lines which shall be for the benefit of all sportsmen."

It also believes that funds contributed by sportsmen should be used only to the extent that they are accessible to all sportsmen. It does believe the States which are propagating game should stock for the benefit of all sportsmen."

A postal note to John B. Burnham, its president, 111 Broadway, New York City, will bring full particulars as to how the association proposes to help hunters nationally and locally. The success of the association is dependent on the encouragement it receives from sportsmen. It starts off with ample funds already contributed.

M. D. HART.

WHY NOT JAIL JOHN D.?

BRYAN ASKS MR. TAFT

Lincoln, Neb., December 15.—Commenting on the President's declaration in his trust message that the way is clear to successful criminal prosecution, Bryan's Commonwealth says: "If that is true, then why does Mr. Taft neglect to order the arrest of John D. Rockefeller and other Standard Oil leaders, together with the tobacco trust, and the Sherman anti-trust clause of the Sherman anti-trust act?"

The Supreme Court in the oil and tobacco decisions declared that these particular trusts and the maintenance of them had violated the law.

"Indeed, Mr. Taft himself gives in his message an emphasis on the anti-trust quality of these trusts. Taft predicts jail sentences for trust magnates in future prosecutions under the Sherman anti-trust law. Will some one kindly explain to the President why he again asks the people to wait and why he does not call the oil and tobacco magnates to account under the criminal clause of the law which he says was so vigorously upheld by the Supreme Court in the notable cases recently before that body?"

KNIGHT IS ACQUITTED

Jury Finds Him Innocent of Using Mails to Defraud.

Huntsville, Ala., December 15.—The jury trying John W. Knight, charged with fraudulent use of the mails in connection with forged cotton seed, in which it is claimed foreign cotton dealers were defrauded of $6,000,000, returned a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

Knight kept his nerve throughout the trial. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom and reached a verdict of "not guilty." The jury was out seven hours and forty minutes.

TOBACCO RULING BIG HELP TO TRUST

Brandeis Tells Senators Decision Legalizes Position of Monopoly.

Washington, December 15.—Before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to-day, Louis D. Brandeis discussed the recent reorganization of the American Tobacco Company and the tobacco trust, and gave his reasons for believing the public would get no relief from the Supreme Court decision, and why the common stock of the tobacco interests lately in the monopoly had mounted higher. Mr. Brandeis said:

"The Commissioner of Corporations, in his reports, set forth that the danger of the tobacco trust was in its monopolistic power. If a decree had been rendered that destroyed its monopolistic power, it would have taken from the stock its monopolistic value. Therefore, it follows that its monopolistic power is left in the judgment of men best qualified to pass on tobacco securities."

"Before the decrees of the Supreme Court, one protection the independents had was the fact that the American people could buy up behind the independents and said: 'We are going to support you.'"

"If we had an asset of real value on the part of the independents. They were enabled to get capital and business that they could not have got without this monopoly. They had a certain element of good and was an advantage to the independents so long as the trust was outside the law."

"Now when the Circuit Court puts its seal on the transaction, the independents are deprived of what was a former asset. They are no longer able to sell their goods. This is why the position of the tobacco trust is so much better now than it ever was before."

Asked whether the decree would not interfere with the former methods of doing business on the part of the trust, Mr. Brandeis replied that the trust interests felt that while they might be hampered in certain directions as to expansion, they would be able to secure compensations that more than offset any disadvantages.

He also believes that funds contributed by sportsmen should be used only to the extent that they are accessible to all sportsmen. It does believe the States which are propagating game should stock for the benefit of all sportsmen."

A postal note to John B. Burnham, its president, 111 Broadway, New York City, will bring full particulars as to how the association proposes to help hunters nationally and locally. The success of the association is dependent on the encouragement it receives from sportsmen. It starts off with ample funds already contributed.

M. D. HART.

GIVE PRESIDENT POWER TO PINNISH

Secretary Knox Finds Way to Retaliate on Discriminating Nations.

Washington, December 15.—Asking that Congress amend the tariff laws that the President may levy additional duties of from 5 to 25 per cent, on goods from nations that discriminate in any way against products of the United States, Secretary of State Knox has written a letter to Chairman of the Senate Committee on Finance, recommending a radical tariff bill.

The argument of the Secretary of State is, in brief, that to tariff goods to be used for obtaining the most favorable entry of American merchandise at foreign ports. He also would use tariff to retaliate on nations that discriminate against American trade abroad, that in light of experience and observation, it is imperative to give the President the power to retaliate on nations that discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The letter of the Secretary of State was sent to the Ways and Means Committee at its present session. The secretary, in conclusion, says: "The suggested legislation would so strengthen the department in future negotiations looking to the advancement of American trade abroad, that in light of experience and observation, it is imperative to give the President the power to retaliate on nations that discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty."

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

The suggestion of the Secretary of State is in effect that the United States should hold its tariff as a lash over any nation that shows inclination to discriminate against our products, and that the President may have additional power in adding duty.

CARL CROIGHT CHARGE

Captured After All-Day Chase and Landed in Jail at Crisfield, Md.

Crisfield, Md., December 15.—After a chase by water from Baltimore to Hooper's Island and a narrow escape from the water line of the island lasting more than two hours, Captain John Croight, of the United States Coast Guard, was captured by United States Deputy Marshal Noah Sterling and brought to Crisfield yesterday.

He is in jail and will be taken to Baltimore for trial.

The charge against Captain Croight was made by John W. Allen, who claimed that after being engaged as a member of the crew of the vessel "The Newcomer," which Captain Croight was in charge of, he was repeatedly assaulted by the captain and otherwise treated in an inhuman manner.

Chased Around Island. Practically the entire day was spent in tracing the vessel, and late in the afternoon it was ascertained that Captain Croight was at home on Hooper's Island, for which place place Old Glory headed. Having understood that some of the natives of the island were in the vicinity, a desperate man when aroused, the captain was sworn in as deputies Thomas V. and John W. Allen, of Baltimore, and Engineer Boloy, of the Old Glory.

Captain Croight had evidently been warned of the approach of the officers, for he had the deputies near his home for some time. The officers went too far away to hail him, but for more than two hours they chased him around the island. At last they put him on the shore, where he was placed under arrest by Deputies Thomas V. and John